COURSE OVERVIEW

Have you ever wanted to work from home? Mediating online can allow you to work from the peace and comfort of your own home and provide your clients with a quick and accessible form of dispute resolution. Online mediation offers convenience to both the mediator and the parties and allows the parties in particular, to participate when they have time.

It is an innovative training making mediation more accessible in a rapidly digitilising world.

COURSE AIMS

This 6-hour course aims to provide the training needed to refine and adapt existing mediation skills to become more compatible with the increasing incorporeal digital forums around us.

This course allows you not only to train online but to also learn how to mediate online and discuss why online mediation is the way forward. During the course you will have access to online dispute resolution specialists reviewing your performance.

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE

This course is designed for mediators who would like to become qualified online mediators.

LOCATION OF THE COURSE

This 6-hour course will be held online, permitting you take part from the comfort of your own home or office, from anywhere around the world.

You will connect via the video conference tool, Zoom. You will be able to access Zoom with your computer, tablet or phone.

The zoom call will allow the delegates to see and hear the other delegates and the trainer(s) without having to travel to the same place.
